Sharron Lynn is a proud native of Miami, FL, and high school graduate of New World School of the Arts, where she trained in all forms of dance. During her time at New World, she received a number of scholarships to attend the Alvin Ailey summer intensive and was eventually asked to join the 2nd company, Ailey II. She then went on to attend Florida State University and finished with two Bachelor's degrees, one in Applied Economics and the other in Interdisciplinary Social Science. Upon graduation, Sharron became a member of Spectrum Dance Theater under artistic director and Tony nominated choreographer, Donald Byrd. Her diverse background and training has also afforded her opportunities such as being a featured dancer in Scary Movie 5, touring the US and Canada as a dancer/singer in Disney's The Lion King, and working with recording artists such as Usher and Santigold. She is also a principal dancer in the upcoming HBO series Vinyl as well as the Netflix Original Series The Get Down, which are both slated for a 2016 release.

Realizing her talents, abilities, and artistic appetite encompassed the world of dance and more, Sharron began to venture out and started training and working as an actress and model. She holds contemporary and musical theater master classes across the country as well as workshops for her outreach initiative, Moving Right Along! She is a New York based artist always looking to inspire and be inspired.
